

Wrecking Ball

Harvey Danger

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Tear down the bearing wall
Put up a picture window
Something to look through
At the bastard colors, burnt Sienna Put down the wrecking ball
Who has a friend, who needs one?
I've got a way to get to work in almost any city
Doesn't matter where Take a needle, I won't be there
Privileges forsaken there liberties
I've taken take me nowhere Put down the wrecking ball
Don't let a childhood linger
They'll take the world apart
And break my baby brother's finger So he can't shake my hand
Guard the dead against my legacy
And lack the wound no more
Run from nowhere, nowhere follows you Burn down the house
Make sure the family is inside
Nothing more to tether you
Also no one there to catch you crying Nothing but my famous pillow
And my father's rocking chair
(Get a sliver when you sit there)
Every mess I make, I make a run from nowhere
Nowhere follows you
