Everything Is As It Should Be (2010) written by Josie Field

There is no time like the present to mention youâ€™re the one
There is no time like the present to through away that gun
Weâ€™ve got way too much life left in us to let our forefathers weigh is down
So take my hand and I will lead you on the path to redemption

Everything is as it should be

Itâ€™s not part of our duty to be plagued by the past
Itâ€™s not part of our purpose to let the history last
Weâ€™ve got way to far, learned so much, left that stuff behind
So letâ€™s move on down the road and be greeted with a bright sunshine
