Live Forever

Matt Morris

Please tell me baby, it's not a mistake
Please tell me baby, it's not a mistake
I'm an honest man; I know how to wait
So please tell me baby, it's not a mistake
There's no language for how I feel
There is no language for how I feel
When I look at you standing there, none of this seems real
There is no language for how I feel
Cause we're looking for the way to make this better
Looking for a way to change the weather,
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like we're gonna live forever
There ain't a thing that could change my mind
There ain't a thing that could change my mind
Let the tower fall I'll play the fool and leave everything behind
There aint a thing that can change my mind

Cause we're looking for a way to make it better
Looking for a way to change the weather,
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like we're gonna live forever
When everything breaks open, everything breaks down
Wider and wider the spaces between
We look in the dark and wonder, does it make sense to stop now?
And hold the line, hold the line
Cause we're looking for a way to make it better
Looking for a way to change the weather,
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like we're gonna live forever
(Looking for a way) gonna live forever
(Looking for a way) to change the weather
Whether you or I survive tonight
I promise you that I will love you like we're gonna live forever

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/