Losing It All

Shannon Noll

Been outside, walkin in circles around the truth
Just tryin to find a road that doesn't lead back to you And there you go painting the walls up around your heartIt was raining out We should have learned by nowChorus
I know it feels like fate Like these are mistakes we're meant to make
But i've walked that road before searching for more And losing it allSo you're thinkin 'bout givin' it up just to try and find Something else
Something like what we would leave behindChorusSometimes it takes a lie for us to see the truth
The reasons why we try to run to something new
I know someone could break my heart apart from you
But I don't need them to I'd rather be with youChorus
I know it feels like fate
Like these are mistakes we're meant to
make
But if you walk out that door
I know for sure We'll lose it all
