Man made God and God made you
Through those motherly encyclopedias of truth
Christian, Hindu, Muslim and Jew
Your Gods were bred to hypnotise you.

Postpone your potential to the next life
'Cos it's Gods will that they fuck you
And there's eternal suffering for sinners
Who question the convenience of blind faith.

Happily you cede free will
For a fantasy that is easier for you.

All religions
A trillion dollar industry
Thats sells the cheapest lie ever to humanity
And a hypocrites, blood letting morality

Fearful, hateful, braindead willing killers
Blinded by some bullshit bigoted fairy tale
Yet see their shallow, selective faith in action.
Every time they pray from their hospital bed.

I'm not an atheist, I'm an anti-theist
But I'm a better person than any of you
Your moral highgrounds nothing more than an insurance agenda
'Cos even if you're ever good it's only to save your own ass burning

Humbly your on your knees
Waste your only life begging to nobody
