I Will Illuminate

Silverstein

Another place repeating the mantra
I'm here to stay ashamed of where I've been
And what I've seen
These eagle eyes that judge me
Another face conceiving the moment
It never leaves, it stakes it's claim on me
It stakes it's claim on me
A visionary in hiding
I'll never make it
I'll never make it
A crying wolf, this boy's become a manI always thought I would be different
With steady hands and heart
And always in control
Be holding fast, but slowly letting go
I always thought I would make a difference
But now I'm spending lives instead of saving souls
The more I learn, the less I seem to knowHeavy hands holding his hatred static sun supressing secret screams
Dishonouring distant dreams
Can he ever stop it?
We'll never make it
We'll never make it
The lion preys the man can't break his chainsI always thought I would be different
With steady hands and heart
And always in control
Be holding fast, but slowly letting go
I always thought I would make a difference
But now I'm spending lives instead of saving souls
The more I learn, the less I seem to know
I will illuminate
To try to help myself
To feel something for nothing
I hung the images up to see
If I could still fake all the feelings
And try to be what you want
Be everything that you need
Be everything that you needI'm here again, consumed in the moment
My mind reflects, repeating it back to me
Repeating it back to me

Why would you even begin to try?
You'll never make it
You'll never make it
You'll never make it
You'll never make itI always thought I would be different
With steady hands and heart
And always in control
Be holding fast, but slowly letting go
I always thought I would make a difference
But now I'm spending lives instead of saving souls
The more I learn, the less I seem to know
