Sign of the Crimson Storm

Riot

Oh God what have I done?In the shadows on the dark side
'Neath the skies of crimson doom
In the streets I hear the wind cry
Evil sings the devil's tuneOn your knees and pray for mercy
Let God hear us on this day
Or in the acid rain our bones will layOh cry, cry for a world that's torn
Cry for the child unborn
For it's the sign of the crimson stormDesperate people in the city
Foolish games of greed and wealth
On themselves they have no pity
They are victims of themselvesGotta make you pay for mercy
Let God hear us on this day
Or in the acid rain our bones will layOh cry, cry for a world that's torn
Cry for the child unborn
For it's the sign of the crimson storm
Here we goNow hear
Now say it
Oh no where to run
No where to hideIn the shadows on the dark side
'Neath the skies of crimson doom
In the streets I hear the wind cry
Evil sings the devil's tune, yeahOn your knees and pray for mercy
Let God hear us on this day
Or in the acid rain our bones will layOh cry, cry for a world that's torn
Cry for the child unborn
For it's the sign of the crimson stormCry for a world that's torn
Cry for the child unborn
For it's the sign of the crimson storm
Cry out
