(She's In) Another World

Buck

She walks around with her head up in the clouds; she's so high, her feet don't touch the ground all down the street, yeah, the people stop and stare but she doesn't even notice, she doesn't even careshe's thinking about himhe's gone away but she knows it's not forever; in a few more hours they'll be back together and she's waiting for the moment when she'll hold him so tight; wrap her arms around him and everything's gonna be all rightshe's thinking about himshe's in another world...well I'm coming 'round the corner and I see him standing there / I'm the luckiest girl you'll find anywhere and he's never out of mind because he's always outta sight he's my heaven on earth every single nighthe says he's been thinking about meand that's why he's in another world...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/