This Path

Spoken

Father God, help me, guide me, as i swim through this sea of failure,
you comfort me, you carry me,
you're the only one to get me through.
Wherever you go, i will follow, though this road may be so hard that i lose my way i still will follow you.
You comfort me, you carry me,
you're the only one to get me through.
you know me, you've made me it's my choice to follow you.
You know me, you made me, you've made me, it's my choice to follow you.
chosen by God to keep our head up high as we move along this hard, hard live, with trials, temptations, trials, temptations, they crush me with the things they do to me, disgust me with the lies they tell me.
Don't be afraid to carry on.
