

Autumn Grey

U.P.O.

Moving around on your own and you're bloated
Tryin' to walk out your door but you're loadedI feel the words you hear
I climb the walls you build
You hide the truth with lies

I'll miss these long goodbyesWho will you know when you're old and autumn's gray?
Who will hold you when all the seasons change?Feeling alone and you long to be petted
All of your presence is decayed and emptyI'll take the time we've had
Seal it and hold it back
I'll heal the break you feel

I'll take this time for realWho will you know when you're old and autumn's gray?
Who will hold you when all the seasons change?
Who will you know when you're old and autumn's gray?Save your life
Say goodbye
Take the time

To paint your face with criesWho will you know when you're old and the autumn's gray?
Who will hold you when all the seasons change?Who will you know when you're old and autumn's gray?
Who will hold you when all the seasons change?

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>