

Seven

Vanbot

I'm reading your lips, but don't get it right
I don't understand what happend tonight
You gotta stop right now, don't say too much
What you've just said, was more than enoughSeven days, was all it took to sort it out
Seven days, I never thought I'd be withoutIt would be better not to know
Mmm, (cause) I'm getting too emotionalIt would be better not to know
Don't say a word, just let it go
Seven days, was all it took to sort it out Better not to knowDon't run away, Don't make a scene if there's someone else, just don't tell meSeven days, was all it took to sort it out
Seven days, I never thought I'd be withoutIt would be better not to know
...So tell me what you see when you look at me and tell me what you feel about it Then tell me how you used to look at me and then explain why the pieces don't fit
And tell me that you don't want to dry my tears
And you don't want to comfort me
I used to hold you high up in the clouds
But you just crashed down to the ground
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>