

Lately

Lera Lynn

Lately I'm not feeling like myself
When I look into the glass I see someone else
I hardly recognize this face I wear
When I stare into her eyes I see no one there
Lately I'm not feeling like myself Lately I've been losing all my time
All that mattered to me slipped my mind
Every time I hit another town
Strangers appear to lock me down
Lately I've been losing all my time The mystery that no one knows Where does love go when it goes? Lately words are missing from now on Vanished in the haze of love gone wrong
There's no future, there's no past, in the present nothing lasts
Lately someone's missing from now on The mystery that no one knows
Where does love go when it goes?
The mystery that no one knows
Where does love go when it goes?
