

Carry Me

The Secret Sisters

I'm a long way from home
I feel the weight in my bones
I'm tired like a sinner
I'm cold and my money's all gone I'm ashamed of the things that I've done
Feeling love is like facing a gun
The closer you get, the farther that I'm gonna run
If I keep on hiding, how will I be known
I keep telling myself I'm better alone
When my father will carry me
If I came back and fell at your feet
Would you even recognize me?
I'm worn and I'm weathered
Your love is a shelter I need If I keep on hiding, how will I be known
I keep telling myself that I'm better alone
When my father will carry me
If I keep on hiding, how will I be known
I keep telling myself that I'm better alone
When I fall
When I fall
When my father will carry me home
