

Cartwheeling the Void

Subvision

I've been scanning my black box
And my past adventures
Long gone misdemeanors
Aching emotional stirs
And I've been down that road so many times before
Kept me knocking at the door

Once again I've been smitten
Of what is supposed to be me
And once again the barrel of love has been left leaking into the sea
And I've been down that road so many times before
Just one little skill too poor

Cartwheeling the void
Cartwheeling the void

I've been filling my black box
With some new adventures
Some new misdemeanors
And an even heavier curse
So I went down that road like many times before
I'm still knocking at the door

Cartwheeling the void
Cartwheeling the void
Cartwheeling the void
Cartwheeling the void
