Going In Blind

P.O.D.

One day
Some dayThis life's not like you wanted it
His eyes, I can see again, I need you here
In your mind, nobody's listening
It's alright not to feel again, just breathe againTime after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I'm going in blind
I don't know which way I need to goFeels like your world is caving in
And I cry failing to understand, I wish I can
It's alright if you're missing him
In his eyes you can live again, free withinTime after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I'm going in blind
Don't know which way I need to goTime after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
But time after time, I can't see the signs
I don't know which way I need to goDo all these roads lead me back to you?
(Count on nothing)
I don't know which way I need to go
(Count on nothing)
Do all these roads lead me back to you?
(Count on nothing)
I don't know which way I need to goOne day
Some dayTime after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I'm going in blind
I don't know which way I need to goTime after time, I walk the fine line
Something keeps bringing me back
And time after time, I can't see the signs
Do all these roads lead me back to you?Time after time
Do all these roads lead me back to you?One day
