If You Like It

Absentstar

If you fight it, it will fight you back
If theres one chance
Then youve got one more
If you like, it will like you backUninvited but you welcome more
And all that youre waiting for is gone
Although it wont go very farIts never too late whatever the case
Its here to stay, wish it all away
But it still remains, Im learning to say
Its never too late to start again
And it all begins where you think it endsYou deny it like at heart attack
Undecided, it keeps coming back
You re-write it, change it front to back
Youre reminded of your false controlAnd all that youre waiting for is gone
Although it wont go very farIts never too late, whatever the case
Its here to stay, wish it all away
But it still remains, Im learning to say
Its never too late to start again
And it all begins where you think it endsEvery time you ever wanted out
Oh, youve been to hell and back again
But finally figured outAnd every time you ever thought out loud
But youve lost your voice
So just enjoy the way it all plays out
If you like it, it will like you backIts never too late, whatever the case
Its here to stay, wish it all away
But it still remains, Im learning to say
Its never too late to start again
And it all begins where you think it ends
