

Sound of the Century

Static Blue

So you're getting ready to go out tonight, 6 'o clock but that's alright, but then you say 'oh my lord I'm so bored, there's nothing going on,'
so you turn on the radio and you hear a song you know and the song, the song, the song, it goes like this...

This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun,
this is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun alright!

So you make it to your friends house, congregate around the coffee table Yeah you're telling the stories of last week and they really turned into a fable, and the party's moving and everyone's grooving to a new kinda song but then you turn on the radio and you hear a song you know and the song, the song, the song it goes like this...

This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun.
This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun alright!

There's a taxi outside, there's a taxi out-side, we're going to town if you think you can survive, but then they threw you in the back, smack, and you're feeling rather drunk, oh, but then you turn on the radio and you hear a song you know and the song, the song, the song it goes like this...

This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun.
This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun alright!

This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun.
This is the sound of the century, it's only just begun but oh god we're going to have fun good-night!