

Beginning and End (feat. Ali Fadhil)

Nouri Sardar

Everything has a beginning and everything has an end. Muhammed (SAW) is my beginning and the Mahdi is my end.

Between them is my existence and it begins with the dawn and it ends when the sun departs and blessings upon them i send.

It did not start in a desert, Rather he became a light, Muhammed (SAW) the first creation stole the gaze of Adams eyes. From this began our beginning , The beauty of Adams sight. And for his end, at his own end, For Mahdis return he cries. He lived the road that begun than with a sight that sparked his birth, only when hed welcome them all , was he content with demise and twelve had follow muhammed on such a road he walked he found it paved with divine gold. In each one a lesson lies

With Muhammed SWT something was born. BEAUTIFUL until it tend. He shaped the world for the better , setting the stage for them all
