Between the Lines

Matt Andersen

"He'll come out of nowhere and treat you to wine
He'll speak to your body and he'll sing to your mind
You follow him home, he'll show you a time
Keep your heart between the lines.
Roses for healing and chocolate for time
Kisses to make up to apologize
He leans in with innocent eyes
Keep your heart between the lines
What is your hurry, Why so fast
These days lay before you, will soon be your past
Don't settle for love that'll leave you behind
Only take the best from whatever you find
No matter how hard you got to try
To keep your heart between the lines
No matter how hard you got to try
To keep your heart between the lines"

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/