How sad

Indian Summer

They meet in a cafe, it's love at first sight
They sit there the whole day, they talk there the whole day
They're gonna get married, they're tying the not They're giving it everything, yeah all that they've got

How sad we were to hear your news
How much you had, so much to lose
How sweet the bird that sings the blues away

They borrow some money to buy a big house
With doves in the garden, with doves in the garden
They're gonna be happy, they're sure about that They're gonna have children, two dogs and a cat

How sad we were to hear your news
How much you had, so much to lose
How sweet the bird that sings the blues away.

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by KERSHAW, NIK
Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/