reach beyond the constellations a movement towards the monumental universal secrets - the cosmic error sculptured by those dying generations...I drank the passions of those lost in the paradox...as the stars touched my essence the last of all creation wept paralysed with wonder and confusion blurred by the serpents temptation...I drank the passions of those lost in the paradox...entangled in a swirling black aura of united burning chaos anthems to the forgotten masters - a gathering equilibrium"reach beyond the constellations
sculptured by those dying generations"I wondered... as we beheld the world about us I knew... as I beheld the cosmos about mecompelled towards the spiritual black dimensions aura as I reached for outer dimensions my spirit became complete...
