I Hate You

Soul, Inc.

Tell me what to think
When you look deep into my eyes
Do you begin to realize
That we're in misery?
I don't understand
It's such a mystery to me
And we agree to disagree
'Cause we were never meant to be
And all I know is
I hate you
I think it's safe to say you hate me too
How did we ever get this fuck up point of view
Oh anyway, anyway
Well, it's alright
Let me come over, we can scream and fight
And in the end you wanna stay with me all night
And that's alright with me
Everybody says
That I should stay away from you
And I know you're friends are too
But they don't have a clue
Tell me why you think
We like to play the games we play
And say the evil things we say
And what we're doing here today
Together now 'cause I know
I hate you
I think it's safe to say you hate me too
How did we ever get this fuck up point of view
Oh anyway, anyway
Well, it's alright
Let me come over, we can scream and fight

And in the end you wanna stay with me all night
And that's alright with me
Why you and I start to fight then you cry
Slam my door hit the lights, happens every time
I've got your fist in my face and you're all that I can taste
But I want for you to stay

It's all that I can suffer 'cause it sucks
I hate when we break up
But it's part of making up and you know
And that's the only time we agree
It's so easy to see, yeah
Tell me what to think
When you look deep into my eyes
And every time it's a surprise
That we're in misery
I hate you
I think it's safe to say you hate me too
How did we ever get this fuck up point of view
Oh anyway, anyway
Well, it's alright
Let me come over, we can scream and fight
And in the end you wanna stay with me all night
And that's alright, that's alright
I hate you
I think it's safe to say you hate me too
How did we ever get this fuck up point of view
Oh anyway, anyway
Well, it's alright
Let me come over, we can scream and fight
And in the end you wanna stay with me all night
And that's alright with me, that's alright
