Over My Head

Treble Charger

I've been having a bad day And I need something to show for Something's rubbing the wrong way Cause I think it's over in my head And nothing to go for I've climbed from floor to ceiling And I can't describe this feeling Don't have the strength to wake up Won't have the arms to take up Everything and nothing I never asked for any help Won't wait cause I'm not bluffing I'm asking now Stay away from the deep end Think I'll last through the weeked Cause I've got nothing to show for And I know I need more Circling over my head I can't describe this feeling I've climbed from floor to ceiling Don't have the strength to wake up Won't have the arms to take up Everything and nothing Won't wait cause I'm not bluffing I'm asking now I never asked for any help If it takes me away I don't care where it takes me I won't know if it breaks me til tomorrow comes What have I done today? I can't describe this feeling I've climbed from floor to ceiling Everything and nothing Don't have the strength to wake up Won't have the arms to take up Won't wait cause I'm not bluffing And I never asked for any help I'm asking now I'm asking now [Thanks to Scr3aming_infid3liti3s@hotmail.com for these lyrics]
