

You've Got to Be Kidding

Graham Parker

You got to be kidding when you say your line is cast
You got to be kidding when you say that this will last
You got to be putting me on, you got to be stringing me along
You got to be kidding anyway to feel you belong You got to be joking when you shrug off any doubt
You got to be joking telling me you have worked this out
You got to be building a wall inside that endless empty hall
You got to be joking anyway to be here at all
You got to be kidding You got to be kidding, baby, and there ain't no doubt
Fooling yeah when the truth comes out
Hoaxing honey and it just ain't fair
Playing baby when there's no one there, oh yeah You got to be kidding putting prices on yourself
You got to be kidding telling me there's no one else
You got to be putting me on, you got to be stringing me alone
You got to be kidding anyway to feel you belong, yeah
