

Breathe

Backstreet Boys

The roses you left me slowly fading to grey
Your coat on the chair and the scent of your hair I miss
The clock on the wall it reminds me of all the better times
When we walked in the park and we whispered in the dark Yeah we laughed and cried And I never knew alone wherever you are is home Without your lips on mine no the sun doesn't shine and no I can't breathe
I can't breathe
Your words are a symphony music that sings to me no I can't breathe
I can't breathe
I can't breathe Ooh I walked by the store where we sat on the floor and we ate like kings
And someone said hey we're locking the door no time to play And I never knew alone wherever you are is home Without your lips on mine no the sun doesn't shine and no I can't breathe
I can't breathe
Your words are a symphony music that sings to me no I can't breathe
I can't breathe
I can't breathe We're not over
We're not over Without your lips on mine no the sun doesn't shine
And no I can't
You know I can't breathe Without your lips on mine no the sun doesn't shine and no I can't breathe
I can't breathe
Your words are a symphony music that sings to me no I can't breathe
I can't breathe
I can't breathe
