3 Amp Fuse

Belleruche

I need
To find an answer
'Cause I'm still
Asking the same questionsAs I did a year ago, have I not learnt a thing
Anything at all, shed some light because I'm drowning
Just a clue will do before I make the same mistake again
Do I have to wipe the slate clean and start off, start over and over againIt's late, much too late now
Let fate have this way out
How long must I wait for
A way out or last callAnd I need
Some kind of relief
To quench this incessant insanityStart again and finish off what I first started
Draw a line and keep head above water and swim
Where to go I just don't know just do not look down
Scale the heights and try to come out unscathed at the other sideIt's late, much too late now
Let fate have this way out
How long must I wait for
A way out or last callHanging on by the teeth I'll figure it out some day
Any clue will do I'll find it one of these days
Here we go again, still not far from where I began Chances are I won't retreat on regret when I am looking backIt's late, much too late now
Let fate have this way out
How long must I wait for
A way out or last callIt's late, much too late now
Let fate have this way out
How long must I wait for
A way out or last call

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/