Long Sleeves and Nicotine

Newhaven

Take me to your breaking point,
I want to see it all
Touch me with your restless joints,
I'll smile as you stall
To tell me why you cant resist and why you must procede
Darling stay with me tonight
We'll put our hearts at ease

In just one year you'll be able to say Goodbye to this world that you strung so high Above your curtains when you sleep at night then only thing that keeps 'em statisfied
The ones who love you most
The two who say they care
If caring means to boast
Then who's to say what's fair

Look into my eyes, let's forget about your past
Life's short as it is now let's make these moments last,
Keep your head above water just for another year
Darling you'll be fine, just remember why you're here

It's not to late, just take one step back
We can cut this rope with our broken glass
Take my hand as I hold you close
Chin up darling, you're a tear stained rose
We can start all over together me and you,
And if your heart stops beating, then mine stops

Long sleeves and nicotine, going day by day
The forecast calls for rain, we can't abide by what they say
The rain my fail, but I'll still fall over again like the very first day,
Our eyes met, now hold your breath
I swear we've seen the best of it

Look into my eyes, let's forget about your past
Life's short as it is now let's make these moments last,
Look into my eyes, let's forget about your past
Life's short as it is now let's make these moments last,

Keep your head above water just for another year
Darling you'll be fine, Darling you'll be fine,
We can start all over together me and you,
And if your heart stops beating, then mine stops too

Lyrics Submitted by Owen Caselton

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/