Another Time

Yngwie Malmsteen

Feeling restless, crave for company
Never gave me any room to breathe
Intuition soon made me wise
As you ran out of alibisTook time to draw the line, that I can't deny
Nothing is plain or black and white
You fight like a tired soldier, shielded by wounded pride
Always pretending to be strong, desperately waiting forAnother time, another place
Well, I don't care no more
I am the one you can't replace
A fact you can't ignoreCan you face it?
I'm forever gone
Dug your own grave
Shot with your own gunTook time to draw the line, that I can't deny
Nothing is plain or black and white, oh
You fight like a tired soldier, shielded by wounded pride
Always pretending to be strong, desperately waiting forAnother time, another place
Well, I don't care no more
I am the one you can't replace
A fact you can't ignoreAnother time, another place
Well, I don't care no more
I am the one you can't replace
A fact you can't ignoreOh yeah, another time, another place
Well, I don't care no more
I am the one you can't replace
A fact you can't ignoreAnother time, another place
Well, I don't care no more
I am the one you can't replace
A fact you can't ignore

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/