Life Will Kill You

Clawfinger

You can't escape life just because you stopped living but you're dead the same second you decide to just give in and given the choice between your own life and death I suggest that you cherish the time you have left 'cause time waits for no one and we're all growing older I've found myself looking more over my shoulder I like to say fuck it I could be dead tomorrow and deal with the pain and the stress and the sorrowlife will kill you, in the end we're all gonna die life will kill you, it doesn't matter how hard you try life will kill you, even if you don't give a damn what part of your own death is that you don't understand death comes in all sizes all shapes and all colours but we like to believe in it only happens to others the closer we get them or we try to avoid it we've tampered with nature so much we've destroyed it it slips through our fingers the more we live what the fuck are we thinking acting like we control it it's a cold fact of life but we should try to be brave how brave can you be with one foot in the gravelife will kill you, in the end we're all gonna die
life will kill you, even if you don't give a damn
life will kill you (x5), it's all a part of the great big plan life will kill you, even if you're in a rock and roll band life will kill you, so you might as well enjoy each breath life will kill you, and now you're three minutes closer to death
