

Give Me Something

Lee DeWyze

Honey, take both of my eyes
Well maybe I see something I don't realize
If you give me something, then I'll give you anything
If you give me something, then I'll give you anything Darling, take both of my hands
And try to remember where we drew a line in the sand
Darling, take hold of my mind
And then you'll be ready to catch the words as they fall out
Oh if you give me something, then I'll give you anything
If you give me something, then I'll give you anything If you give me something, then I'll give you anything
Oh if you give me something, I'll give you anything Honey, take hold of my heart
And beat like a drum until all the rest falls apart
Oh if you give me something, then I'll give you anything
If you give me something, then I'll give you anything
If you give me something, then I'll give you anything
If you give me something, then I'll give you anything
