Her Father's Song

FM Static

I saw the rain fall down today watched lightning crash through skies of grey why cant life just be polite and wait wait

i saw the light outside your house red lights cut like nothing else the scene of a silent cry for help help

how are we supposed to do this if everyone we love still lets us down if youre there can you hear me now?

no matter how hard i try cant get you out of my mind wish i could be there to help you say goodbye dont hold it inside

cause whats left can be right
oh oh oh
whats left can be right

i saw the sky go black today i felt your tears and ached your pain its hard to tell how much this changed how you see everything and all i can do is pray that you dont take the blame

Cause its not your fault that it happened this way happened this way

no matter how hard i try
cant get u out of my mind wish i could be there to help u say goodbye

dont hold it inside
cause whats left can be right
oh oh oh
whats left can be right

Lyrics submitted by DJ.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/