You Have Been Good

Scott Krippayne

If I never get to see another rainbow
Or share another life with a friend
If I never stand barefoot by the ocean
Or get to kiss my child goodnight againIf I never have another prayer that's answered
Or have another blessing come my way
If this is all I know of heaven's kindness
Father, I would still have to say [unverified]You have been good
You have been good
And I may've wondered how could it beYou have been good
You've been so good
So many ways You've been good to meYou've shown me mercy upon mercy
Grace upon grace, time after time
And I know all too well what I'm deserving
Yet, You are still so patient and kindYou have been good
You have been good
And I may've wondered and how could it beYou have been good
You've been so good
So many ways You've been good to meSuddenly it all were ended
And your past sins disappear
Looking back over a lifetime
The evidence is clearYou have been good
You have been good
And I may've wondered how could it beYou have been good
You've been so good
So many ways You've been good to meYou have been good
You have been good
And I may've wondered how could it beYou have been good
You've been so good
So many ways You've been good to meSo many ways You've been good to me
