

Still here (Alex Hook Tropical Remix)

Vivian Green

Uh, yeah
Like a thief in the night
You came and took what was mine
I was willing, I wanted to give it
So far gone, so deep in it
Moving fast, my head was spinning
We became like two in one
There was no me without you baby
So intense it got so crazy! I believe what you told me
I believe what you told me!
Every word, every word
I was holding on to them!
I believe what you told me
I believe what you sold me!
Every word, every word
I was holding on to that! And you're still here, yes you're still here
And everything you said was true!
Everything you promised,
Everything you said would be
And you're still here, yes you're still here
And I always believed
Said you would give me the world
And you gave it all to me They said it was a big mistake
Get out now, before it's too late
I didn't care what anyone said
You and me went full steam ahead!
I don't regret the choice I made
Knew what I felt, I wasn't afraid
I know I had to risk it
No turning back too deep in it uh yea I believe what you told me
I believe what you told me!
Every word, every word
I was holding on to them!
I believe what you told me
I believe what you sold me!
Every word, every word
I was holding on to them! And you're still here, yes you're still here
And everything you said was true!
Everything you promised

Everything you said would be
And you're still here, yes you're still here
And I always believed
Said you'd give me the world
And you gave it all to me! And you're still here, yes you're still here
And everything you said was true!
Everything you promised
Everything you said would be
And you're still here, yes you're still here
And I always believed
Said you'd give me the world
And you gave it all to me! To me to me to me
Gave it all to me
To me, oh to me
Said you'd give me the world And you're still here, yes you're still here
And everything you said was true!
Everything you promised
Everything you said would be
And you're still here, yes you're still here
And I always believed
Said you'd give me the world
And you gave it all And you're still here, yes you're still here
And everything you said was true!
Everything you promised
Everything you said would be
And you're still here, yes you're still here
I'll always believe
Said you'd give me the world
And you gave it all
Oh yea
