

Fallout

Blair Dunlop

Here's to life in the dark
Because I'm in the dark again
Fated from the start
To fall short in the loving game
No surprises then
We saw it coming
But it doesn't seem fare
I thought I'd hit the ground running

Coz when jealousy's on your back
Who doesn't feel hard done by
When your pasting up the cracks
Crack a smile and your living a lie

In 2 years what's the fuss try 10 then come back to me 4's at least the most before you can see what love can be Try telling that to a teen
3 months and you think your in love
Replaying the places we've been I'd say 1 week is quite enough

Coz when jealousy's on your back
Who doesn't feel hard done by
When your pasting up the cracks
Crack a smile and your living a lie

(Guitar Solo 27 Seconds)

Many's been the blood of your battle
That you can't deny
Bombs and shells are scattered
In love they do not lie
But the fallout takes its place
Both on the field and on me
In your shelter trying to race
At least hit the lights so you can see

Coz when jealousy's on your back
Who doesn't feel hard done by
When your staring at the black
Crack a smile and your living a lie

(Guitar Solo 32 Seconds)
