

Acid Bath Vampire

Macabre

You will die by surprise when I take your life I will smile John George Haigh was a vampire who drank old ladies blood then put them in a non-corrosive drum and with acid he'd dissolve them With my knife I make a cut on your neck
Your blood fills a glass for me
A special treat
Now that you're dead in a metal drum you'll stay I pump the acid in to melt your corpse away
