

Jack Daniels

Eric Church

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

yeah
alright yeah, come on alright listen up I got a reputation going 'round , I aint never been the kind to back down
I've thrown a punch or two and gave a few black eyes
But jack daniels kicked my ass again last night (I know that's right) Yeah I hung in pretty good for a round or two ,
But he don't fight fair like daddy taught me to Then I turned my head & then he snuck up from behind
But Jack Daniels kicked my ass again last night I always thought this heart , was made of steel and bullet proof
But the memory of her tail lights fading breaks it right in two Guess every super man has got his kryptonite - i got mine -
But Jack Daniels kicked my ass again last night Well I didn't bleed and I ain't black and blue It ain't hard to tell who got the better of who 'Cause in the morning light, I'm hard to recognize Yeah, Jack Daniels kicked my ass again last night Yeah, I always thought this heart , was made of steel and bullet proof
But the memory of her tail lights fading breaks it right in two,
Guess every super man has got his kryptonite
But Jack Daniels kicked my ass again last night Alright break it down, right here now
You want the proof im about to give you the proof right here That black label is like blackpowder for my soul
My head feels like a bomb about to blow
Hell, I'm half inclined to give that fuse a light
Let Jack Daniels kicked my ass again tonight
