

So Long, Superman

Firewater

(woo-hoo)
So long Superman
Got a suggestion for ya
Check the kryptonite before ya
Try to break a horse
Hey, ho, here we go now
Pulling in onto the freeway
Just like any other weekday
Except there's no remorseCause I'm gone
And now nothing seems to matter
Traded in my silver platter
For an empty plastic tray
There was nothing left worth waiting for
The kids burned down the candy store
I put my dreams in storage
And I'm waiting for a trainSo long, Superman
I'll light a candle for ya
Say a prayer when California
Falls into the sea
L.A. I never knew ya
Goodbye, good riddance to ya
Go to hell and hallelujah
You never meant much to meI don't care
Where the track leads I will follow
I fled like Lou Ferrigno
Tearing at the seams
I couldn't take that town no more
A whole world I ain't seen before
So I gave up the gravy
For sweet obscuritySo long, Superman
I'm taking a vacation
I'll miss your medication
It helped to ease the pain
I'll see you back in Reno
Outside the Grand Casino
In your old El Camino
Singing in the rainNo plans
I go where the machine goes
The past is the placebo

Dissolving in a drain
I sleep beside the railroad tracks
With no more rent or income tax
I've got no fixed address now
I'm waiting for the train I don't care the track leads I will follow
I fled like Lou Ferrigno
Tearing at the seams
I couldn't take that town no more
The kids burned down the candy store
So I gave up the gravy
For sweet obscurity

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>