The Price Of Love

Poco

One heart, one other they met last summer
One move, she started now they love this way
The pain of pleasure lying together
You're at their mercy as the telephone ringing on
No one said there'd be nights like this
Risk your life for a stolen kiss
We live, we learn, we lie
For the price of love
We kiss then say goodbye
For the price of love
We live, we learn, we lie
For the price of love
We kiss then say goodbye
For the price of love
Each move goes so slow until the doors close
No secret codes now, no words as baby goes down
One last dance then goodbye, practicing his love lies
Well he runs to his wife and your left holding the knife
You live your life to take that chance
When you're a master of the art of romance
And you know you won't cross that line
Until that last slow dance

We live, we learn, we lie
For the price of love
We kiss then say goodbye
For the price of love
We live, we learn, we lie
For the price of love
Alone our lonely hearts would die
It's all in the game, the way that it's played
There's no time to wonder why
To catch you when you fall, answer when you call
No one can hear you cry
We live, we learn, we lie
For the price of love
We kiss then say goodbye
For the price of love
We live, we learn, we lie

For the price of love
We kiss then say goodbye
For the price of love
One kiss, one dance, goodbye
That's the price of love
