

House of Memories

Merle Haggard

My house of memories is all I own
I live in misery, now that you're gone
A constant reminder, of what used to be
Is torturing me in my house of memoriesMy house is a prison
Where memories surround me
There's no place to hide
Where your memory won't find meFor my house of memories is all I own
I'm all alone in my house of memoriesMy house is a prison
Where memories surround me
There's no place to hide
Where your memory won't find me
