

Identity Theft

The Pale Pacific

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Let me tell you how we get this done
I pass it down 'cause I love you son
It's not stealing if you're skimming off the top and we will move. With names and numbers you can listen in A piece of mail and a phone top thin
Passwords are indiscriminative
And now we move And I am you
And I am you
And you are gone Don't look so worried I won't let you down
You're so scared but we're well prepared
You're incapable in confident hands and we will move. Let me tell you how we get this done
I pass it down because I love you son
It's not stealing if you're skimming off the top
And now let's move And I am you
And I am you They won't even miss
What they don't even know what they have
A lifeless identity deserves that
Play the part, Play the part Better than the original Run swiftly my dear son Run, run swiftly my dear son Dad, I'm feeling way to young
To know what I'm really getting into
To begin a life of crime, to live on the lam
Even with you, even with you They won't even miss What they don't even know that they have
A lifeless identity deserves that
Play the part, Play the part Better than the original And I am you, And I am you
And I am you.
And I am you, And I am you
And you are gone
