

Higher

With Confidence

She crawled into my ear like a tapeworm telling me things i want to hear the words escaped her mouth with everything I should've been
"Are you all alone?"
I could be a scar hold me at your heart eat it all apart
I could be your own desire And even when you're done tell me I'm the sun baby let me take you higher her lips were close to mine
