

Morning Sun

Bad Company

The morning sun comes through my window
All night long I have been waiting
We who are constantly moving
Leaving part of us behindShe moves across the room with easy grace
Mona Lisa, smile up on her face
I who am completely mesmerized
By the sunlight in her eyesThe morning sun comes through my window
All night long I have been waiting
We who are constantly moving
Leaving part of us behindShe moves across the room with easy grace
Mona Lisa, smile up on her face
I who am completely mesmerized
By the sunlight in her eyes
