Tears

Lake of Tears

A thousand tears, tears in my eyes
Tears from my heart, from down deep inside
For now you are to fly, to fly far away
Fly to heaven's land, to where the angels stayAnd the night will even hide, hide whose ravens that flyAngel wings, takes you ashore
Angel heart, it opens the door
On your path, all evil has fled
Don't be afraid, of what lies ahead
Angel wings, takes you away
To heaven, where the other angels stay
Tired wings, but still far to fly
To heaven, to paradise...The empty sky, is dark that night
Besides one star, that seems to shine so bright
And soon my love, my dearest friend
In heaven's land, we shall meet again
