

There's a Face

Eve 6

There's a face I know too well
I see it every time I look in the mirror
No I don't kiss and tell
I'll tell you after I've betrayed you
Supersonic boy sweating sin
The pillar that I'm melting on you
Will prove you wrong
Keep your lips sealed this just in
You're speeding up the ticker
Of a walking time bomb
Time's up
Stand up and face the muzak
Smile wide
Step outside. Click your sticks
And cast a spell that'll suck my saliva like water from a well
I try to do what's right
What's right ain't right enough
For you tonight.
I see you're displeased
A middle finger response
I'll try to appease
I'm sorry, don't be mad.
But ask me what I'm sorry for
And I won't have an answer... Time's up
Stand up
And face the muzak.
Smile wide, step outside. Look me in the eye and let 'em flow again.
Lies on the rocks with a twist of desperation.
Look me in the eye and let 'em flow again.
Lies on the rocks with a twist of desperation.
Look me in the eye and let 'em flow again.
Lies on the rocks with a twist of desperation.
Look me in the eye and let 'em flow again.
Lies on rocks on lies There's a face I know too well
I see it every time I look in the mirror
No I don't kiss and tell
I'll tell you after I've betrayed you

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>