Is it possible to know if I'm telling a lie? It's treading with a piece A piece that I can not hideIt's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it with your soul It's coming and it's never late When I come homeEgotistical, egotistical, ego fall Egotistical, egotistical, ego fall below Egotistical, we know, we know it possible to know if I'm dead or alive? It's treading with a piece A piece that I can not hideIt's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it without soul And it's coming, it's never late When I come homeLeave no light on for me Leave no light on, this war, it rages in me Leave no light on, this war, it rages in me Leave no light on, this war, I fear it won't end Leave no light on, this war, ragesIt's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it with your soul And it's coming, it's never late When IIt's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it with your soul And it's coming, it's never late When I come homeHelp me, I need light
