Transcendence

Saviour Machine

through the night, i see the door i see the love transcending through the air through the pain, i call his name i see the light can lift me from the shadows surrendering all that i have vision, reflecting through all that i am knowledge, conceived by the touch of his hand surrender for the answer lies within his eyes the door opens to vision beyond rise, above the night into the light fly, arrows of desire the clouds unfold, into my fire by the grace of light my soul awake, arise today he blew the breath of life into my hands, a prophecy through the strength through the soul without fear, my destiny awaits through my fate, they guard the gate to drive the angel from the door within you transcendence in love will avail unto the promise, the soul will prevail into dimensions above mortal hell
