Where The Rainbow Ends

Paul Whiteman

In my dream, I was in a valley
By waters clear as ice
Trees and mountains, surround me
Nothing so beautiful I've ever seenCan a place like this, these days still exist?
A place people haven't destroyed yet
There's no pollution, just fresh air
There aren't any men who wouldn't careThis is the paradise where I want to stay
Where no one else can find a wayWhere the rainbow ends
There I go, there I mend
There's the land of the free
There's the place, I want to be
There I go, go, where the rainbow endsMystery of this place keeps fascinating me
It preoccupies my mind, time after time
When I look at the sky and I see birds fly
It's a play at my theaterInto this dreamland, I always come back
Where my life goes on in the same, safe track
Take my hand and come with me
I'll show you the place you've never beenThis is the paradise where I want to stay
Where no one else can find the wayWhere the rainbow ends
There I go, there I mend
There's the land of the free
There's the place, I want to be
There I go, go, where the rainbow endsWhere the rainbow ends
There I go, there I mend
There's the land of the free
There's the place where I want to be
There I go, go, where the rainbow endsWhere the rainbow ends
There I go, there I mend
There's the land of the free
There's the place, I want to be
There I go, go, where the rainbow endsThere I go
There I go, where the rainbow ends
