She's Slowin' Down Again

Sloan

She's slowing down again
She's slowing down againLivin' life at a pace her own kids can't keep
She can see it's everything that she needs
Forced up by the gauges at the top of her dials
She can read it
She believes in itShe's slowing down again
She's slowing down againCarryin' all the weight
That surrounds her
Like it or not
When a breather's all that she really needs
Not just a pretty face
No there's so much more that she's got
She's the cash and carry
So extraordinarilyHow many times have I seen you walk right by?
Never stoppin' to look around
Nothing but determination in both blue eyes
You'll never get it all done lying downShe's slowing down again
She's slowing down againSurface aint a question of beauty
No it is not
It's the depths that she can barely impede
Brought up in the roll
Is her duty one of a lot
She's the cash and carry
So extraordinarilyShe's slowing down again
She's slowing down againHow many times have I seen you walk right by?
Never stoppin' to look around
Nothing but determination in both blue eyes
Blue eyes blue eyesThe obligation to her world I'm guessin'
Can be refunded at the end
Of this mess that she's in
She's a true visionary
ExtraordinarilyShe's slowing down again
She's slowing down again
She's slowing down again

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/