

Amarillo Sleeps On My Pillow

Fair to Midland

stay close if you wanna keep up but don't dare turn around go ahead, find a bull's-eye my friend but know you're gonna get the horn yellow belly's never havin' the guts but god how he gets the glory the west was won from a cheater with a gun and i hope he never lives it down minced words from anonymous cowards fell down from kingdom come the threatened source of this obstacle course had us cornered in a guessing game every attempt turned a kettle of fish and loves making its waves if i had to guess, he's still makin' a mess worse than any thunderstorm no one turned over leaves no one's branching out
no one went on a limb when he belted out get gone
someone looked for a clue, someone got the ax someone yelled in the wake of the great collapse get gone let's stall like a neanderthal that can't make up his mind and not sore if we've heard it before broken records wanna make a case the croppers came and were spinnin' a yarn our ears still opened up if failed attempts were a lottery ticket you can bet i'd be rakin' it in no one turned over leaves no one's branching out
no one went on a limb when he belted out
get gone
someone looked for a clue, someone got the ax someone yelled in the wake of the great collapse
get gone

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>