

The Destroyer

Himsa

Flawless
So red raw and real
The beast of the street
Speaks faceless to me Fierce
The deepest of depths
Sends daggers and fire
From each sharing end Summons
Outcry for battle
A living illusion
Straight to the heart I enter sanctuary
They bury the dead Makes way
For pain and promise
Dawning devotion
Numbing all in dismay Stands alone Lash out
Strength in submission
Giving to exploits
A swift sudden death Swarming
Hybrids of exile
Outlaws in anthem
Sketched in even script Screams clean
Sincerity
To break the crisis
Of a vacant past Words of wisdom
Words as weapons Destroyer
You're course remains unscathed Destroyer
You're course remains unscathed I enter sanctuary
They bury the dead As the abyss
Is filled
And forgotten Conviction
The sign of its times
Translates the quarrel with no objection
And issued
Sarcasm and war
To this distant boy
With more desperate needs My commune
Safe haven
Secures my temperament
And in retrospect
I prevailed with the ones who saved my life Destroyer

You're course remains unscathedDestroyer
You're course is unscathedStand alone
